The use of web-surveys for social science research is becoming increasingly common. This introductory seminar outlines practical and methodological issues for students to consider when using web-based questionnaires.

In the specific, the seminar focuses on developing the students' expertise in relation to the use of LimeSurvey, a free software tool.

Requirements: basic skills in research methodology

Open to students of all Master's degrees (LM SRS, LM GOT, LM MOVASS) of the Department of Sociology and Social Research, it is especially targeted at students of the Master's degree in "Sociology and Social Research" (LM SRS) who have priority in admission (all students of all Master's degrees of the Department of Sociology and Social Research have to register on-line).

Students attending at least 75 % of the lessons and making the work requested by the teacher will obtain 3 CFU (crediti formativi universitari).

For students of the Master's degree in Sociology and Social Research, the seminar is for the credits related to "Meth Lab 1" (cod. 135314) or "Laboratori di Metodologia/Meth Lab" (cod. 135210) or "Laboratori di Metodologia" (cod. 135040) or "free choice subject" ("Attività a scelta libera"). For students of others Master's degrees the seminar is for the credits related to "free choice subject" ("Attività a scelta libera" o "Altre attività") according the rules of their degree course.
